

Cracow

Seminarium zostało zorganizowane przez Katedrę Procesu Zarządzania Uniwersytetu Ekonomicznego w Krakowie oraz Peace Research and European Security Studies (AFES-PRESS), Mosbach, Niemcy

24 October 2011, at 14.00 in the Senate Room of the Cracow University of Economics, Rakowicka 27.

Participants:

- Assoc. Prof. dr hab. Czesław Mesjasz, Management Process Department, CUE: Introduction
- PD Dr. habil. Hans Günter Brauch, Free University of Berlin: Reconceptualization of Security in the Early 21st Century
- Prof. Dr. Úrsula Oswald Spring, National Autonomous University of Mexico, Regional Centre for Multidisciplinary Research: Water and Food Security in the 21st Century

Photos were taken by Dr. Lidia Mesjasz, CEU, Cracow

Photo 1: Opening session with the Vice Rector for Scientific Research of the Cracow University of Economics, Prof. Dr. hab. Andrzej Malawski and Prof. Dr. Czesław Mesjasz (host and moderator), and the speakers PD Dr. habil. Hans Günter Brauch, Free University of Berlin and Prof. Dr. Úrsula Oswald Spring, National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM), Centre for Regional Multidisciplinary Studies (CRIM)

Photo 2: PD Dr. habil. Hans Günter Brauch, Free University of Berlin and Prof. Dr. Úrsula Oswald Spring, National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM), Centre for Regional Multidisciplinary Studies (CRIM) and Prof. Dr. Czesław Mesjasz, Cracow University of Economics (host and moderator).

Photo 3: PD Dr. habil. Hans Günter Brauch, Free University of Berlin, presenting his lecture on Reconceptualizing security in the early 21st century

Photo 4: Prof. Dr. Úrsula Oswald Spring, National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM), Centre for Regional Multidisciplinary Studies (CRIM) presenting her lecture on water and food security in the 21st century.

